THE ORPHANS' HOME.

Why the Technical School is Not Open.
Since the publishing of an article in the Reno Gazette of the 23d and copied by the APPEAL, a correspondent informs us that there is now at the Orphans' Home only two or three boys that are large and old enough to have any idea of work. There are three boys over 12 years of age now at the Home. The other boys that are of that age and older, have asked to be let off and have been placed with good people, and good homes, and are earning their own living and a little money and don't wish to return to the Home. The other boys at the Home are from 6 to 9 years of age and very small and are not tall enough to see the top of a work bench. The Directors say they don't want to rob the orphans out of anything, or the tax payers either. They claim it would be violating their trust and robbing the tax payers to pay a teacher $75 or $100, per month to teach three boys carpentering when they can be taught farming as they are taught in season, they also learn to milk, make butter and the handling of cows and stock. The girls are taught dress making and the older ones make their own clothes and assist to make the clothing for the young and smaller girls, they work in the kitchen and in the dormitory and everything is running along smoothly.

She, Who Must be Obeyed.

Kathleen Mavourneen was given last evening by the members of the home dramatic club.

It was a good performance throughout, and the large audience was delighted. The music, scenery and acting was all good, and there is talk of repeating the performance.

What's the Matter with the Flag.

A man came into the APPEAL office yesterday and wanted to know what crime Chief Justice Waite had committed that prevented the half masting of the Capitol Flag on the occasion of his death. The query seemed quite pertinent.

—The other day a man and team were nearly run over near the Ellsworth House by the afternoon local. The Railroad Co., ought to put a bell on the passenger car that the people might hear. As it is now people with teams cannot hear the car until it is close to them, as the engine takes the side track and the passenger comes down the main track alone.

SMALLPOX IN VIRGINIA.

Dr. Zangerle Arrested for Concealing Cases.

It was reported here yesterday that there was great excitement in Virginia City over the discovery of eight additional cases of smallpox. Word was received that Dr. Zangerle had been arrested for not reporting five of his cases as the law directs. A man who lives with the family where the disease is the worst has been working in the Cholera mine for two weeks. The schools have been ordered closed.

At St. Peter's.

At the Episcopal Church on Sunday Bishop Leonard preached both morning and evening to large congregations. The choir, consisting of Mrs. Hanford, Miss Wasson, Miss Parkinson, Judge Leonard and Mr. Will Mackey, under the direction of Mrs. M. P. Dorsey, rendered some very fine music. The Bishop also addressed the prisoners at the State Prison, quite a number of ladies and gentlemen from the city also being present. After the evening service he was introduced by the Rector of the parish to members of the congregation. The Bishop is an eloquent preacher, and made a favorable impression on all who heard him. During his stay in Carson the Bishop was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, of the Orphans' Home.
